

HOW TO PREDICT THE FUTURE THROUGH DESIGN WITH V&A CURATOR

30.11

WORKSHOP

10:00–11:30

INTRODUCTION. Short lecture from Rory on The Future Starts Here exhibition, and the idea of the workshop. Questions.

SET FIRST TASK. Participants are to select 'an object of the future'.

11:30–12:00

BREAK

12:00–13:30

DISCUSS OBJECTS. Participants will break into groups to discuss their chosen objects, what these objects represent and where they may take us.

WRITE LABELS. Form groups of 2, and choose an object between you. One will write the object label (70 words) and the other will write the question label (70 words).

13:30–14:30

LUNCH

14:30–16:00

MAP THE OBJECTS. Objects will be positioned on the axes of utopia / dystopia, social / individual. What is the overall direction these objects are taking us? How might we suggest other uses to change this direction?

FINALISE LABEL TEXTS. Based on these discussions.

16:00–16:30

BREAK

16:30–18:00

MAKE PRESENTATIONS. Objects should be pinned up alongside their labels.

PRESENTATIONS, 'PRIVATE VIEW'. Each team to present their projects, labels and questions.
